

CMHS Strives to educate through academics, extra-curricular activities, and by working together to develop Lifelong Learners who are responsible, contributing citizens.

Crow Jr/Sr High School

135 students enjoy the ongoing success story that has become almost legend at Crow Jr./Sr. High School.

Students in grades 7-12 enjoy a 1:18 teacher-student ratio that allows each teacher the time to reach out and personally connect with each of our young adults on this closed campus.

The curriculum is rich for a small school: Two years of French, Band, Choir, 21st Century Technology coursework, Woods, Intro to Engineering, Drama, Yearbook, College Now Pre-Calculus, Health Occupations and Construction. There is a focus period so students can develop an education plan and build an education profile to guide learning toward student's personal, career and post-high school goals.

Activities & Athletics

We believe the well-rounded student is productive and busy in many arenas: football, choir, volleyball, pep band, cross-country, drama, basketball, student government, wrestling, school clubs, track, cheerleading, softball, and baseball.

The Success Story

The district is proud of its small, personalized classes. At the high school we are delighted with our College-Now classes; Yearbook; French; K-12 music program; professional/technical program (photography and woodworking).

Applegate has established an academic data team that uses an assessment system (easyCBM) to frequently monitor students' progress towards state standards. Because of this monitoring system approach, Applegate has implemented a Walk-To-Read and a Walk-To-Math initiative.

The Positive Behavior Support program is fully implemented in both schools. High school student's academic and career decisions are supported by an A.S.P.I.R.E. program. Small classes and a caring, personal environment result in an extremely small dropout rate.

The reasons are pretty straightforward:

- small classes
- personal one-on-one connections
- traditional values
- a proactive commitment to excellence
- incredible parental support

Other Data

- 45 Full-time equivalent personnel
- 23 Teachers & specialists
- 8 Instructional support staff

C-A-L District Office

Located in Elementary Building
 Phone: 541-935-2100 Fax: 541-935-6107
 85955 Territorial Road
 Eugene, OR 97402
www.cal.k12.or.us

Preparing students for tomorrow's challenges through personalized attention; an expectation of excellence; and providing the needed tools for self-improvement of the mind, heart, and body.

Just 15 minutes south and west of Eugene in the rural valleys of Crow and Lorane, Crow-Applegate-Lorane School District offers a uniquely successful educational experience for today's youth.

Some 275 pupils are led by a group of professionals in an exciting educational venture that focuses on the serious acquisition of knowledge and the development of valuable life-long skills, traits and attitudes.

In an age of longing for the simplicity of traditional values, the emotional satisfaction of personal one-on-one connections, and a solid academic grounding in fundamental knowledge and skills – Crow-Applegate-Lorane School District stands as a testament to the axiom that small really does work, and in fact works better.

Applegate Elementary School embraces
"Teaching...Reaching...and Inspiring Lifelong Learners."

Applegate serves 135 pupils in a K-6 educational program that strives to meet a diversity of lifestyles and beliefs.

Younger children enjoy the benefits of a small 1:20 teacher to student ratio and an individualized curriculum designed with each child's instructional level in mind. It is an academic program enriched with music, art, and an integrated computer technology curriculum.

Our Communities

The rural communities of Crow and Lorane support a traditional lifestyle that serves as the foundation for this success story. Most folks live here and work in neighboring towns and cities.

A Norman Rockwell setting forms the backdrop for a more deliberate pace, a more thoughtful consideration for the individual, a more humane approach to our bewildering modern existence.

Our Schools & Programs

Growing out of the community's highly successful Rural Arts program, we find music, the arts, crafts and dance interfacing with a traditional academic focus.

Family Resource Center

The district received a grant so it could open a Family Resource Center (FRC) at Applegate. The center's goal is to ensure that families are given the knowledge, support and resources they need in order to maintain and strengthen their children's healthy development and academic success. FRC's often provide direct services or programming on-site, and also function as a central touch-point for families to access additional community services.

Dental Clinic

The Crow-Applegate-Lorane school district is proud to be a member of the South Lanes Children's Dental Clinic. This is a grant funded program and we have had many of our students benefit from this program at no cost to their families.