CMHS NEWS

Good Afternoon,

I want to thank Bryan and Jim for their hard work on the siding at the middle/high school. The new siding looks amazing! Also, we are excited to see the new landscaping that will be planted. All of your hard work is appreciated and it makes it a wonderful atmosphere for students to learn.

Student Led Conferences (SLC) are coming up quickly; we are sending out letters for you to sign up for times to hold a conference with your student. There are also times available to meet with the teachers for a one on one conference. The process and outcome of SLC's is changing! All of your students seven classes will be show cased as well as future goals and a comparison of what students have accomplished so far this year.

Baseball and track are going strong; come support your Crow athletes at their contests. A schedule of events are posted in the bulletin.

Great News about the Applegate Panthers!

From Principal Aaron B. Brown

Is scheduled for Thursday April 13th beginning at 3:15 at Applegate Elementary.

Children who are 5 years of age prior to September 1, 2017 are eligible for the 2017-18 school year. We offer a full-day program, five days a week! Come meet the teacher and see the classroom. Bring your child so they can see and interact in a classroom setting. Other items to bring are your child's immunization records and a copy of their birth certificate. For more information, call 541-935-2100.

Our annual Grandparent's Tea will be Thursday, April 20th. Families can arrive between 12:30 -1:00 to find a table in the gym. At 1:00 students will be dismissed from their classroom to join their families in the gym. Tea and cookies will be served. The entertainment includes a silent auction, a talent show, and a performance by the student body. After the tea students may go to the Book Fair in the library with their families to check out some great summer reads. We look forward to a fun-filled afternoon. I hope many can join us for this festive event.

IN THE NEWS

Ayusa's annual Community Service Contest is a fantastic way for our exchange students to share how they are giving back to their host communities through volunteering. Each year we look forward to reading about the many hours they have devoted to charities and organizations in their host communities. Best of all is hearing in the students' own words how these experiences have shaped their worldview and enhanced their exchange experience. We received many amazing entries this year, but the ones who stood out most were Emel Hyusein from Bulgaria, living in Texas, Ilija Ristovski from Macedonia, living in Idaho, and Rihab Soltani from Tunisia, living in Oregon.

Rihab, from Tunisia found plenty of volunteer opportunities in her Oregon host community, including tutoring her fellow classmates, working with children at an art center, and volunteering with Habitat for Humanity.

However, her favorite volunteer experience has been working with refugees. She worked closely with a Syrian family who had recently arrived to the U.S., and especially loved bonding with their 5 year old son, Jan. "When I first met him, he didn't know any word in English, he only spoke Farsi, but we managed to play together and communicate. His first word was 'cookie!'" As an exchange student, Rihab had a unique understanding of what it's like to adjust to living in a new place and culture. "Being part of this has shown me and everyone else how to conquer all our religious and cultural beliefs and find a way to communicate, how to consider our differences as a positive factor that allows us to learn from each other instead of rejecting each other. It showed me how to feel people's suffering and how to serve without expecting something in return. How to be human!" Rihab is looking forward to continuing to volunteer after her exchange year, particularly helping seniors and people with disabilities.

Rihab, a Junior at Crow Middle/ High School will be going on a trip to Washington DC, Philadelphia, and New York City in April along with the other two contest winners. To read about the other winners, go to the website @ <https://www.ayusa.org/stories/contests/community-service-contest-winners-2017>. For information on hosting locally, contact Lisa Livelybrooks @ llivelybrooks@ayusa.org
